

Xcentech Computers has been our sole source for IT needs for nearly 4 years. Our introduction to Sam Trejo and his team began with our urgent need for help ridding our system of a computer virus that was threatening the entire database. We were so impressed with the successful conclusion of that incident that we have since relied on them for software and hardware, networking our multiple offices, and installation of new servers and backup features.

In addition, we have received invaluable help with internet issues and email set-up, revision of our website and all of our system security needs. They provide ongoing support, working with our 3rd party vendors and technicians for maintenance and troubleshooting. They are conscientious about working around our busy schedule, while meeting our needs with timely efficiency. Xcentech Computers is one of our core partners for keeping our business IT needs current and worry-free. I can recommend Xcentech Computer Services without hesitation.
